Month 2: Mentorship

In the second month, the focus shifts to guiding students through live market trading. Participants are encouraged to open a live account with their preferred broker, where they can implement the previously learned trading strategies for practical experience. We assist students in understanding their trading strategies based on factors such as risk appetite, time commitment, and personality traits. Live trading opportunities are shared on a WhatsApp group to demonstrate market analysis and risk management. Ongoing monitoring of traders' live setups ensures the correct implementation of strategies with proper risk management.

Live Trading Session post completion of 2-month course

Every month, we also provide 2 live trading sessions through online platform (via zoom) during the weekdays on the 4th week, which will be held on Wednesday, and Thursday at 8 to 9pm even after the completion of the 2-month course. Both the online classes will be conducted by two different traders wherein one would focus on Intraday trading and the other one on Swing Trading. These online sessions help the students to understand how to trade in live markets and which trading style they can connect and correlate with and would want to pursue as their own trading methodology.
